

The Daily Standard.
Friday, March 22, 1872.

European Summary.

The father of the Right Hon. James Stansfeld, M.P., expired on the 20th of January, in his 88th year.

The death was announced of Sir Thomas Phillips, Bart., F.R.S., in his eightieth year, and of Mr. Joseph Pease, of Darlington, the first Quaker who sat in Parliament after the Reform Bill. Mr. Pease was in his seven-ty-third year.

The explorer of the Euphrates, died at Puckett, Ireland, in his eighty-third year.

Sir Charles Dilke was married on Tuesday morning, January 30th, at Upper Trinity Church, Chelsea, to Catherine Mary Eliza, daughter of the late Mr. Arthur Gore Sheil.

Her Majesty the Queen has been graciously pleased to give her grace of pheasants to the Cancer Hospital.

The decoration of Chevalier of the Order of St. Maurice at Lazzaro has been conferred upon Mr. Edward Whymper, by His Majesty the King of Italy, in recognition of the value of his recently published work, "The Alps."

An exchange says the priests of Galway secured the election of their candidate, Capt. Nolan, by a large majority over Capt. Trench.

It is said that the return will be petitioned against.

By an Order in Council, the 31st of March is fixed as the day after which jurisdiction over the appointment of officers, &c., to the militia, yeomanry, and volunteers, now exercised by lords lieutenant, is to cease under the Act of last session.

The Swiss Times notes the death, near Geneva, of M. Chevalier, who, it says, was 107 years old.

A London correspondent writes:—A reduction of awards of £1,000,000 has been made in the army and navy estimates.

Mr. Norman Lockyer, summing up, in the new number of Nature, the results of the eclipse observations made by the Alpine Commission, remarks that the composition and structure of a part of the corona have been forever set at rest.

It is reported from Rome that the Italian Government proposes shortly to bring a bill suppressing the religious orders, confederating ecclesiastical estates, even when international, assigning to the General Superior of Religious Orders their place of residence, and converting Papal Rentes into Italian Rentes.

A Mr. C. W. Jarvis, recently unseated in the pecuniary of £5, at the Ilford Petty Sessions, for using immoral bearings on an envelope without a license, has, after a correspondence with the Commissioners of Revenue, succeeded in obtaining an entire remission of the fine awarded against him.

Committee of the ladies of Brussels has opened a candidate for the seat in the London School Board, vacant by the resignation of Professor Huxley, but has declined, on account of her other pressing engagements.

The ultramontanism of the new Archbishop of Paris has led to a serious schism among the Roman Catholic clergy. The vicar of Madeleine, M. Michaud, has resigned all his ecclesiastical preferments, and other priests are also disaffected.

An English Commissioner was about to be appointed to inquire into and report upon the condition of the Indian immigrants in the Mauritius.

Three of the bas-reliefs for the Edinburgh monument to the late Prince Consort have been finished. They represent scenes in his life—the first being his marriage; the second, the opening of the Great Exhibition of 1851; and the third, the presentation of the Prince to the boys of an industrial school.

It is stated that a company has been formed to make the preliminary works and surveys with the object of constructing a submarine tunnel in the straits between Dover and Calais. The amount of capital is £20,000.

Great activity is shown at Woolwich Arsenal in the manufacture of heavy cannon for naval service and coast defence, and other material of war. The colonies and out stations are being supplied with the newest designs of guns; and skilled workmen have for some time been engaged in making experiments during the night-time with torpedoes.

The great Parliament of the Galapagos, which held once every seven years, took place this year on the 2nd of February, at Geratini, in Germany, out of the numerous folk-lore of the islands, who are nearly eighty years of age, and not able to undertake any long journey.

Among the considerable money acknowledged by the Chancellor of the Exchequer in Monday's Finance was a note for £100 for unpaid interest on the loan of the request of a "dying man."

The New Testament Company of Revisers sat on the 30th, at the Jerusalem Chamber. The company is engaged on the fifth chapter of St. Luke's Gospel. The Bishop of Gloucester, presided.

The recent rains have caused serious floods in several parts of England. In the low-lying parts of Leicestershire, especially around Loughborough, the country for miles on either side the railway presents the appearance of a sea.

Cork is becoming conspicuous for its loyalty. The town council passed by acclamation a vote of congratulation to Her Majesty on the recovery of the Prince of Wales. The Mayor protested against the imputations which had been cast on the loyalty of the English press.

The Queen has been presenting the various London hospitals with delicacies in the shape of pheasants. On and after Feb. 5th, postal telegraph cards were to have been issued in England. It has been ascertained that the baby hospital died from want of nourishment. The keepers were unable to take it from the mother in time to save life.

Speaking of the Attorney General's speech in the Tichborne case, the Graphic remarks: "An industrious calculator has ascertained that down to the close of last week the speech had already filled columns of print more than equal to a couple of ordinary novels; and if, as now appears probable, it should extend to the close of next week, it follows that any publisher venturing to reprint it must prepare for a quantity of matter equal to some twelve or some twenty volumes of fiction which occupy so much space on Mr. Mudie's shelves."

Messrs. Cammel & Co., of the Cyclops Works, Sheffield, have just succeeded in rolling, without the slightest defect, the largest armour-plate ever made. The plates are intended to protect the turrets of the great war-ship Devastation, which is being built at Portsmouth. Each plate weighs 24 tons, and measures 20 feet in length, 9 feet in breadth, and 8 inches in thickness. The time occupied in rolling one of these plates and bending it to the required form was under two hours.

The Herald Commission has concluded its examination of witnesses. Admiral Sir John Hay gave evidence, and said that in his opinion the ultimate loss of the vessel was attributable to the injury done to the coal bunkers by a fire caused by the heating of a very description of coal introduced by the present Government. Sir John expressed a preference for the old system of a deliberate board at the Admiralty.

A more cheerful item of gossip is that one of the principal features in this year's Budget will be the remission of the twopenny on the income tax, imposed after the failure of Mr. Lowe to carry his proposed duty upon matches and further, that a serious effort will be made by the Government to reduce the tax to threepence in the pound, should the exigencies of the revenue render such a step at all possible.

The great 35-ton gun which goes by the name of the "Woodchuck," and which possesses the early developed forces of an infant Jupiter Tonans, was fired again, and hurled its 700lb. thunderbolt at an initial velocity which would have carried it seven miles. Considering that the last child of the arsenal is cracked, its constitution will nevertheless, maintain a creditable reputation for strength, while the infant can belch forth its fiery material with power enough to send a shot a distance as far as from North Fulham to Mile End, East London.

At the visit of Her Majesty to St. Paul's on the 27th ult. seats were provided for over 7,000 and 8,000 persons. Of these the greater number were apportioned to peers, peeresses, members of Parliament, the clergy, the Metropolitan Board of Works, the high sheriffs of counties, the mayors of the United Kingdom, and the members of the army, the navy, the bar, the Civil Service, and other bodies and persons selected to represent the nation.

The Indemnity Question Again.

EDITOR STANDARD:—I am glad to see the improved tone of your editorial this morning; it is evident that you begin to see the error of your ways, and with the remark I wish to let the matter drop, as far as you are concerned; but before dropping the question altogether, I have a few words for the ear of your correspondent J. S. Helcken, who has come out at all on principle, on this subject.

This gentleman, at considerable length, points out in a clear and masterly manner, what I have no doubt he believes to be the real question at issue, viz.: "Should the safe guards of the public, the laws, rules, and regulations, protecting them against the misappropriation of the public funds, by their servants, be ignored and trampled underfoot, either by accident or design by their servants, or should the House of Commons, as the real question at issue."

Now with all due deference to this gentleman (whom both admire and respect), I just positively assert that it is no such thing; the real question is simply this,—shall the majority of this House rule or not?

The money part of the question is entirely beside the point, and completely overshadowed by the great principle of party government, the right of the majority to rule. As to the formidable array of evils which he so carefully and elaborately pointed out, as likely to arise through the legislation of this bill, I hold that the fact that a question of this kind can only be dealt with after the Standing Rules have been suspended, and that they can only be suspended by a unanimous vote of the House, is amply sufficient to guard against all the evils referred to.

There is another little circumstance that I should like to call his attention to; it is this: If he will look over the Estimates for 1872, he will see that a sum of money has been placed there for the same purpose of indemnification, and I think that he will readily admit, that according to his own showing, the Rules of the House must be suspended.

Now this item of money has been placed there for the same purpose of indemnification, and I think that he will readily admit, that according to his own showing, the Rules of the House must be suspended.
